5.17 The One With Rachel's Inadvertant Kiss

Rachel has an interview at Ralph Lauren, where she mistakenly kisses the interviewer (Mr. Zelner).

She gets called back for a second interview, where she again mistakes Mr. Zelner's actions and chews him out (<俚>严厉责备 斥责).

Later, realizing her mistake, she meets with him again, straightens things out(v. 澄清), and gets the job.

Ross spends all his free time 'acting' in front of his window, thinking it entertains his friends.

Joey tries to find a woman who keeps waving at him from Ross' building, but somehow keeps ending up at Ross' place instead.

Monica obsesses about proving that she and Chandler are still a hot couple, like Phoebe and Gary.

Chandler enjoys it for a while, but eventually helps Monica see that their relationship has progressed to a better level.

[Scene: Central Perk, everyone is there as Rachel enters, happily.]

Rachel: Good, you guys are all here!

Ross: Hey! What's up?

Rachel: Well, I have a job interview at Ralph Lauren tomorrow!

Ralph Lauren (born Ralph Lifschitz on October 14, 1939) is an American fashion designer and business executive. Ralph Lauren was born in the New York City borough of The Bronx[n. 布朗克斯(纽约市最北端的一区)] to Ashkenazi(n. 德系犹太人) Jewish immigrants Fraydl (Kotlar) and Frank Lifshitz, his father was a house painter. His life has many parallels(n. 相似处) to Robert Denning, the interior designer. Both grew up without fashion, but went on to create and market a lifestyle of society, old money and country club style. Although neither had any exposure to this world as a child, each was able to visualize and create his dream. For Lauren this look would eventually become Polo Ralph Lauren. From a very young age, he started working after school to earn money to buy stylish, expensive suits with an early preference(n. 偏爱 优先选择) for quality over quantity. His attire soon gave him a trendy reputation among his peers. The well-known Calvin Klein, a younger contemporary(n. 同时代的人) also lived in the same Bronx neighbourhood. Lauren attended the Salanter Academy Jewish Day School followed by MTA (now known as the Marsha Stern Talmudical Academy), before ultimately graduating from DeWitt Clinton High School in 1957. In MTA Lauren was known by his classmates for selling ties to his fellow students. In his Clinton yearbook he stated under his picture that he wanted to be a millionaire. Other notables who attended this school include Burt Lancaster, Robert Klein, Stan Lee, and Colin Powell. At age 16, Ralph's brother Jerry changed their last name from Lifshitz to Lauren (his brother Lenny remained a Lifshitz for many years). He went to the Baruch College where he studied Business and dropped out after two years. From 1962 to 1964, he served in the United States Army. After his discharge, in 1968, he married Ricky Low-Beer. He did not attend fashion school, but worked for Brooks Brothers as a salesman and then created the label Polo, a necktie(n. 领带) business. He later purchased this name from his initial backer(n. 支持者), Norman Hilton. Lauren's fashion empire has since grown into a billion-dollar business. In 1984 he recreated the Rhinelander Mansion, a former home of the photographer Edgar de Evia and Robert Denning, into the flagship store for Polo Ralph Lauren. This same year de Evia photographed the Lauren home at Round Hill in Jamaica for House & Garden. In the middle of the 1990s, Polo Ralph Lauren became a public company, traded on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol RL. Ralph and his wife, Ricky, have two sons and a daughter: Andrew, David, and Dylan. David is an executive at Polo Ralph Lauren. Dylan owns and operates an upscale(adj. 高消费阶层的) candy store, Dylan's Candy Bar, at 59th Street and Third Avenue in Manhattan. Ricky appeared on the television show Martha on December 6th, 2006 and stated that her son Andrew is in the "movie business". Lauren is the subject of several biographies (written by Jeffrey Trachtenberg, Michael Gross and Colin MacDowell). Lauren is also well-known as a collector of classic automobiles. His cars have won best in show at the prestigious Pebble Beach Concours d'Elegance multiple times. His collection was recently displayed at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

Phoebe: Very good handshake, good wrist action.

Monica: Let me try. (Gets up to join them.)

Phoebe: Okay. (They shake hands and she pulls away suddenly) Oh my God! What did I ever do to you?! (Rubbing her hand.)

Monica: Did I squeeze it too hard?

Phoebe: Let's just say, I'm glad I'm not Chandler.

(Chandler tries to comprehend that remark.)

Opening Credits

[Scene: Monica and Rachel's, Joey is standing at the window waving at Ross.]

Joey: That's right Ross, I can see you in your new apartment! And you can see me! Same as yesterday, (To Monica) same as the day before.

Monica: Is he doing his shark attack bit yet?

shark attack

Joey: Nope. Op, wait! There he goes.

(We see Ross through the window and he acts like a swimmer that gets attacked by a shark, picture one of the many, many, many Jaws movies they made and you get the idea.)

Jaws 'are the two opposable structures of the mouth n. 咽喉 鬼门关/ Jaws is a 1975 horror - thriller film directed by Steven Spielberg, based on Peter Benchley's best-selling novel of the same name, which was inspired in turn by the Jersey Shore Shark Attacks of 1916. In the film, the police chief of Amity Island, a summer resort town, tries to protect beachgoers from the predations of a huge great white shark by closing the beach, only to be overruled(v. 驳回 否决) by the town council, who want the beaches to remain open to draw a profit from tourists. After several attacks, the police chief enlists(v. 征募) the help of a marine biologist and a professional shark hunter to kill the shark. The film stars Roy Scheider as police chief(n. 警察局长) Martin Brody, Richard Dreyfuss as marine biologist Matt Hooper, Robert Shaw as the shark hunter Quint, Lorraine Gary as Brody's wife Ellen Brody, and Murray Hamilton as Mayor Vaughn. Jaws is regarded as a watershed(n. 分水岭) film in motion picture history, the father of the summer blockbuster[n. (破坏力极大的) 巨型炸弹, 一鸣惊人者] movie and one of the first "high concept" films. Due to the film's success in advance(adj. 预先的) screenings(n. 审查 筛选), studio[n. (制作电影的) 摄影棚] executives decided to distribute it in a much wider release than ever before. The Omen followed suit a year later in the summer of 1976, and then Star Wars one year later in 1977, cementing(v. 融合) the notion for movie studios to distribute their big-release action and adventure pictures (commonly referred to as tentpole pictures) during the summer season. The unprecedented success of this film allowed Spielberg to insist upon "final cut" in every contract he signed from this point onward, effectively allowing him complete control over his own creative visions. The film was followed by three sequels, none of which Spielberg participated in: Jaws 2 (1978), Jaws 3-D (1983) and Jaws: The Revenge (1987).

Joey: (waving) Very funny Ross! Very life-like and funny. Okay.
(Notices that a woman is waving back.) Oh no-no-no, I wasn't waving at you lady. (She just stares at him.) (Joey sees how beautiful she is.) Whoa, maybe I was! Hey, Monica, this totally hot girl in Ross's building is flirting with me.

Phoebe: You tired Chandler?

Monica: You better believe he's tired, after the day we had! If you know what I mean. You know what I mean?

Chandler: Honey, the tortilla chips know what you mean.

A tortilla chip is a snack food made from corn tortillas[n. 玉米粉圆饼], which are cut into wedges and then baked (alternately they may be discs pressed out of corn masa[n. 湿润粉糊] then fried or baked). Corn tortillas are made of corn, vegetable oil, salt and water. Although invented in Los Angeles in the late 1940s, tortilla chips are considered to be a form of Mexican food, called totopos in commercial versions (however, the original totopo is actually more similar to a baked[adj. 烘烤的] rather than fried[adj. 油炸的], tortilla chip). Though usually made of yellow corn (as pictured), they can also be made of white, blue, or red corn.

Gary: So uh Chandler, you like that badge I got you?

Chandler: Oh yeah, it's so cool. (He opens his coat and has it pinned to the lining.) Now I gotta go, Officer Bing has gotta, 10-100. (Pause, softly) That's pee-pee. (Heads for the bathroom.)

Monica: The park huh? A public place.

Gary: Uh-huh.

Monica: I hear ya. Excuse me for just a second! (Gets up and heads for the bathroom as that annoying Gotta-win-at-all-costs-super-competitive thing kicks in again.)

[Cut to the Men's room. Chandler is practicing flashing his badge as Monica enters.]

Monica: Hi Chandler.

Chandler: Monica! This is the Men's room! (Pause) Isn't it?

Monica: Yes it is. You see I've always found the men's bathroom very sexual. Haven't you?

Chandler: No. And if I did, I don't think we'd be going out. Okay, I don't want to disappoint you and I really don't want to disappoint the guy in the second stall (The man of the second stall walks out) Sorry, man. Come on, this is getting ridiculous!

Monica: Come on, we can't let them win!

Chandler: Ugh, we have already proved that we are hot! Okay? So why-why are you getting so obsessed about this thing?!

Monica: Because Phoebe and Gary are in that-can't-keep-their-hands-off-each-other-doing-it-in-the-park phase!

Chandler: (gasps) So?

Monica: I feel really sad that we're not : really there anymore.

Chandler: Oh wow! Is that what this all have been about?

Monica: Wasn't it a lot more exciting when we were y'know all over each other all the time?

Chandler: Yeah that was great. That was really great! But to tell you the truth, I'm more excited about where we are now.

Monica: Really?

Chandler: Yeah! I've never been in a relationship that's lasted this long before. Y'know to get past the beginning and still be around each other all the time, I think that's pretty incredible. And the fact that this is happening all with you, yeah I think that's pretty exciting. (Kisses her.)

Monica: That is so sweet. I know that I was acting a little crazy but umm, I feel the same way.

Chandler: Yeah?

Monica: Yeah. (They hug.)

Chandler: Y'know what I just realized? You just freaked out about our relationship.

Monica: Did not.

Chandler: Yes you did! Admit it! You freaked out!

Monica: Okay, I freaked out a little.

Chandler: Little?! You freaked out big time! Okay? And I fixed it! We have switched places! I am the relationship and king and you are the crazy, irrational screw-up! (Does a dance of joy.) (Monica glares at him.) And now we're back.
